“My Home office outfit is a loose skirt from Suncoo (https://www.instagram.com/suncooparis/), Paris that I got from the Anthology (https://www.facebook.com/pg/AnthologySW18/about/?ref=page_internal) shop close to my gallery, she can deliver during these times and keeping our spirits up, then a loose comfy Sweaty Betty (https://www.sweatybetty.com/) top…. unfortunately my hands and knee is a bit bandaged up as on Saturday a woman managed to run into me…So I had a bit of a hard fall… how that is possible is still baffling me, I am a pretty solid person… and how happy I was about my freedom run until this point.”

“I’m dressing as I always would”, says Hazel Mead (https://theartgorgeous.com/hazel-mead-illustrating-sex-periods-female-perspective/), “I often work from home anyway and have found that dressing like I’m going to work is a good thing for my mental health.”

"As much as I love to dress up, I've been enjoying dressing down these days, lounging around in simpler attire, jeans and a shirt, a comfy jumpsuit or long cotton dress. Working from home is about dressing for comfort and maybe, just a little style, to remind myself of my previous life!"

The fashion-forward Lolita Cros is keeping it casual in basics and separates, though she did let us know that: “Not gonna lie, I have work out pants underneath cause it’s probably what I end up doing most of the day” (Us too Lolita!)

“No dress code! No rules!” exclaims Selena Cerami, “Lounge comfy wear 24/7, I still make up sometimes for a walk or a quick grocery. During the day I hop in yoga clothes for the daily routine. Online meditation and yoga sessions are a great help to keep up with my productivity and stress. I take the chance to send a huge virtual ‘Thank You’ to yogis Adriene Mishler (https://www.instagram.com/adrienelouise/) and Deepak Chopra (https://www.instagram.com/deepakchopra/)!”
